—Guatemala— All Civil Rights Voided

Leftist Government Suspends Guarantees Under Constitution

GUATEMALA (P)—The Communist-supported Guatemalan government Tuesday suspended constitutional guarantees of civil liberties, including voting rights and freedom of the press.

The government contends there is a plot afoot to overthrow it.

Censors screened all local news stories and outgoing foreign dispatches.

A special decree lifted requirements for warrants for arrests and authorized the government of President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman to seize transport and communications systems.

The cabinet action, sanctioned by the Constitution in a time of crisis, came in an all-night session after a second anti-Communist leaflet raid by a mystery plane warned Guatemalans against close ties with Soviet Russia.

A plane similar to one that dropped leaflets in the capital May 26, covered propaganda pamphlets over the west Guatemalan town of Quetzaltenango Monday.

Although the Constitution puts an initial 30-day limit on the suspension of civil liberties guarantees, it permits renewal of any suspension edict.

In addition to major civil rights bans affecting freedom of speech, press, assembly and the inviolability of the home, the suspension order withdraws the right to enter or remain in Guatemalan territory regardless of Guatemalan citizenship.

No more than two persons can legally converse at any one location. All documents, private or otherwise, are subject to examination without a court order.

Habeas Corpus rights no longer are in force and police may enter homes without a court order.

Use of Spanish Required

The foreign news censorship ruling makes translation of all outgoing news into Spanish mandatory and requires submission of stories to the chief of communications for personal examination.

The cabinet announcement cited only the "current situation" as the cause of the action. Tension has been rising in this Central American country since the United States objected three weeks ago to the shipment of 2,000 tons of arms here from Communist Poland.

Roosevelt Holds Big Lead In Demo Race

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jimmy Roosevelt was far outdistancing his rivals Tuesday night in the Democratic race for Congress in California's 26th district, but he trailed in the Republican contest.

As returns from 49 of 901 precincts were counted, the late President's eldest son had polled 895 votes, nearly six times more than his closest rival, publisher Ned Redding.

Although Roosevelt trailed Republican Theodore Dwinings, 421 to 95 in the GOP race, Jimmy was running second in that contest. Dwinings, incidentally, was running a surprisingly strong third in the Democratic contest. He was third with 133 votes.

Redding said he was not ready to concede yet, and asked if he would support Roosevelt if he won, Redding replied:

"I have no bitterness toward Mr. Roosevelt."

Roosevelt's modest campaign headquarters were filled with backers listening to returns by radio. They cheered at every mention of his name.

Roosevelt said it was too early yet for a statement. Late in the evening he left to visit his branch campaign offices on Central Avenue in the heart of Los Angeles' Negro section.

Home Meetings

Roosevelt has conducted an inexpensive primary campaign, with most of his meetings in the homes of his backers.

The late President's eldest son is running against eight other congressional candidates.

Roosevelt's wife Romelle, by whom he has three children, has accused him of adultery with a dozen women. For Jimmy the question in the election will decide if he is a Democrat or a Republican.

Were his emphatic denials of her accusations—and the political magic of his family name—enough to offset any harm to his voice-getting strength?

His final statement was: "It has been a very satisfactory campaign." He thanked the persons who invited him into their 328 homes for campaign meetings.

Roosevelt, 46, is no newcomer to politics. He ran unsuccessfully against Earl Warren for governor in 1950 and is a former chairman of the State Central Committee and former Democratic national committeeman from California.

Of Roosevelt's opponents, three Democrats entered the Democratic list only. They are Buddy Bartlett, architectural engineer; Bruce Edwards Brant, publisher; and Ernest O. Voigt, retired.

SAN FRANCISCO (P)—California Democratic candidates, in a precedent-shaking trend, challenged Republican incumbents for the Democratic nominations in still inconclusive returns from Tuesday's primary.

Democratic Richard P. Graves led Republican Gov. Goodwin J. Knight by a slender margin, but Democratic Rep. Samuel W. Yorty of Los Angeles took firm command over Republican Thomas H. Kuchel on the Democratic ticket.

Gov. Knight and Sen. Kuchel had no serious opposition for their own Republican Party nominations.

The Democratic trend prevailed in two congressional races featuring James Roosevelt, a candidate for Yorty's 26th district seat, and Rep. Robert L. Conrad of the Northern California 5th district.

The race came in an election in which candidates continued California's longstanding tradition of running on both tickets—but in which, for the first time in 40 years, the ballot carried party affiliations. The state's registration is Democratic by nearly 3 to 2.

In the only major contest for a Republican nomination, Lt. Gov. Harold J. Powers was moving ahead of his chief opponent, Superior Judge Frederick F. Houser of Los Angeles. He was aided by a slight lead in Houser's home county.

California allows its office-seekers to try for nominations of rival parties. Most of the 1954 crop continued the traditional cross-filing. Double nomination for the two major tickets amounts to election. A candidate is disqualified, however, if he wins the rival nomination but loses his own.

REP. CONDON TAKES LEAD OF 2 TO 1

VALLEJO, Calif. (P)—Early returns from Tuesday's primary election gave Rep. Robert L. Condon (D-Calif.) a lead of more than 2 to 1 over his nearest opponent in the race for his own party's nomination for the 6th District congressional seat.

Twenty precincts of 864 in the district gave Condon 23 for Republican John F. Baldwin Jr., on the Democratic side. Baldwin was ahead in the contest for the Republican nomination.

Condon, an attorney and former state legislator from Walnut Creek, was denied clearance by the Atomic Energy Commission to attend atom bomb tests as a security risk.

He said he was not a Communist or Communist sympathizer in reply to charges.

However, the executive committee of the Democratic National Committee backed up party Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell's statement last April that Condon should not be given party support.

Some high tension lines were reported down at Fairbury and there was some tree damage.

A 12-foot long cement slab, weakened by the heavy wind and rain, fell off the corner of a porch at the McGowan Hotel in York. Fortunately there was no one on the porch at the time. Chief of Police Bill Wolfe said. A .50 of an inch of rain and a heavy wind accompanied the storm at York.

Hail was reported in the area northwest of Edgar in Clay County. A few hailstones fell with a .75 inch of downpour at Edgar. The town was without electricity for a time.

Dorchester reported only .10 of an inch of moisture fell there accompanied by some wind.

Phone, Light Wires Down

Telephone and light lines were blown down at Fairfield, leaving the town without electricity for about an hour Tuesday night. A hard wind and some hail accompanied the storm there. Early reports said a few trees were toppled. Heavier hail was reported south of Fairfield.

Milford also reported high winds, with many tree branches down, and about a half inch of rain.

Utica had an estimated .60 rain and high winds, while Davenport received a "good" .75 rain. Neither town reported any damage.

Rain Water

Police Officer Charles Darnell of Wymore said the heavy rain came within a half-hour period and that the flooding was caused, not from high water from Indian Creek, but because the water could not run off the streets and was backing up over the sidewalks.

A heavy rain at Hubbell was also reported, causing concern in the Wymore area. Hubbell is on Rose Creek which empties into Indian Creek and a large volume of water emptying into the Indian might cause general flooding of the already rising Wymore stream, natives feared.

Rail traffic on the Burlington line was slowed as a result of the electrically-packed storm, but the dispatcher said there were no washouts or washing of tracks. The slowdown was the result of precautionary patrolling of tracks ahead of trains.

The State Highway Patrol reported early Wednesday that water was running two or three inches deep over Highway 6 four miles south of Milford. The water was receding at that time, however.

Patrol headquarters said the Blue River at Milford was rising early Wednesday morning but was still six or eight feet below bridge level.

High winds accompanied the drenching in many places in the area, apparently causing little damage except for snapped tree limbs and power lines.

Lincoln got little wind, but a series of showers dumped approximately a half inch of moisture on the Capital City.

There were no reports of tornadoes although the weather bureau issued a warning early in the evening that the possibility of a tornado or two existed in this area.

Winds up to 65 miles per hour rocked Newark, according to Irving Heward, of the police force, but only a few tree branches were blown down.

Hickman also reported over an inch of rain and a trace of hail.

Beatrice and Fairbury reported minor wind damage and heavy rain. The Beatrice rainfall was estimated at 2 inches, while Fairbury reported 1.50 to 2.10.

Wymore Gets 3 1/2-Inch Fall

Sudden Downpour Floods Basements, Sends Creek Up 4 Feet In Short Time

Union Pacific Track Out

A summer deluge late Tuesday night flooded parts of Wymore and washed out a section of Union Pacific track near Blue Springs, Neb.

Three and a half inches of rain fell on Wymore in a matter of minutes, flooding the town's streets and inundating basements of homes and business places.

The Beatrice Police Station reported Wilber had had "six to eight inches of rain."

The heavy rain, which also brought general precipitation to southcentral and southeast Nebraska rapidly raised Indian Creek at Wymore over four feet.

At Marysville, Kan., the chief dispatcher for the Union Pacific Railroad said a track washout occurred north of Blue Springs.

A southbound UP freight was being held at Beatrice, another southbound freight from Valley was scheduled to be halted at Lincoln and a northbound freight from Kansas City was stopped at Marysville, it was reported.

No passenger trains travel on that particular route, the UP dispatcher at Beatrice said.

Crews On Way

Reports from both Beatrice and Marysville said repair crews were on the job and that trains would be halted until repairs were complete. No traffic was expected to get underway before 8 a.m. Wednesday.

Neither dispatcher had received word from the repair crews on the extent of the damage.

Water was reported running over Highway 77 at a point known as the Blue Springs Curve, curtailing road traffic.

Ike Rebuffed By House Farm Group

FLEXIBLE SUPPORTS REJECTED

...Benson Not Surprised

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Agriculture Committee Tuesday rebuffed President Eisenhower's proposal for flexible farm price supports and voted overwhelmingly to continue the present system of rigid high-level supports through 1955.

The committee's 21-8 vote was a blow to both Eisenhower and his secretary of agriculture, Ezra Taft Benson, who has campaigned vigorously for a flexible system which would permit the administration to raise federal price supports to farmers in time of shortage and lower them in times of abundance.

At present, the government is obliged by law to support basic farm crops such as cotton, wheat, corn, tobacco and peanuts at 90 per cent of parity.

Party is a price formula designed to give farmers a fair return on their products in relation to the prices of things they buy—such as tractors, clothes and other manufactured goods.

Secretary Benson, blaming high-level supports for the huge surplus stocks of government-owned butter, wheat and other commodities bulging the nation's warehouses, has said he will recommend a presidential veto if Congress votes to extend the war-born rigid supports.

Benson Disappointed

Commenting on the House committee's action, Benson told a news conference he was "disappointed but not surprised."

"It was about what we anticipated," he said. "Sometimes there are reversals of committee actions. The final decision will be made by Congress."

Benson said he saw no compromise in sight on the controversy. Asked if he would recommend that Eisenhower accept a one-year extension, Benson replied:

"I don't think the President would need any recommendations on that score."

Before its final vote, the House committee marginally approved a one-year extension for "permanent" supports at 90 per cent of parity.

Storm Gathers

Across the capital, a gathering storm over the price-support issue was reflected as Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.), chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, drew support from Sen. Holland (D-Fla.) in a speech attacking high-level supports.

"The evidence all indicates that both the government and farmers themselves have gotten into serious difficulties only on commodities which have been supported at 90 per cent of parity," Ferguson told the Senate.

"This in itself is a convincing argument for more flexibility in our farm program, along the lines recommended by the President."

Ferguson contended that a relatively small part of the nation's total farm income results from the so-called basic crops, and that five billion dollars of the more than six billion in federal support funds now tied up in commodities go to only four crops—wheat, corn, cotton and tobacco.

Sen. Holland, agreeing with Ferguson, said 83 per cent of Florida's farm produce—including its citrus fruits—lack price supports. He said the growers don't want them.

Ferguson told the Senate:

"Producers of hogs, cattle, poultry, eggs and fresh fruits and vegetables not only have no direct price support but generally have indicated they do not want such a program."

Housing Start Set For Today

Homebuilders Village Ceremony At 10 A.M.

Lincoln's long-awaited northeast Lincoln housing project, designed primarily to relieve the rental shortage caused by the influx of Lincoln Air Force Base personnel, will be started Wednesday.

Called Lincoln Homebuilder's Village, the 10-acre ground-breaking at 56th and Fremont will mark the start of what will eventually be 316 units in 79 four-plex apartment buildings.

Ervin Peterson, president of the Homebuilders, also announced that R. C. Hastings, state FHA director; Col. Ervin Wursten, commander of the Air Base, Mayor Clark Jeary, the City Council and members of the Homebuilders would be present at the event.

Only a few hours before the ground breaking was announced, the builders and realtors of the city were surprised by a Defense Department proposal to build 600 housing units at the base for military personnel.

(In Washington, the Associated Press reported any housing for the Lincoln Base would have a long way to go before approval by Congress. The requested authorization would have to be followed by an appropriation bill, which would then have to work the long way through House and Senate appropriations committees and passage by both House and Senate.)

Base officials, the realtors and builders all said they felt the proposal, even if finally approved, would be a long way off. Peterson, when first told of the plan, had said that he was adopting a wait-and-see attitude.

Col. Wursten said the proposal came at a time when base officials received "more firm news about the wing to be stationed here, which will greatly intensify the housing problem."

The Village, at which Air Base personnel would get first call, will stand at 100 units this year and the builders said, be completed by a year from now.

The Homebuilders have FHA loans of $25,000 per building, or $6,250 per unit. Estimated cost of each unit is $8,000, Peterson said.

Joe-Army Feud Moves Toward Early Windup

Symington Vs. McCarthy Row Grows; Prober Is Told To See Psychiatrist

WASHINGTON (AP)—The McCarthy-Army hearings began moving fast Tuesday toward an early windup—with the Army camp's chief counsel predicting neither side will score a clear cut victory.

But the feud between Sens. McCarthy (R-Wis) and Symington (D-Mo) rose to a new peak of bitterness.

Symington told McCarthy he ought to consult a psychiatrist, and the Wisconsin senator offered to put his whole career under public scrutiny if Symington will testify under oath about his role in the present row.

Speedup moves were launched in televised sessions and in a closed meeting as the inquiry neared the end of its seventh week. The record of the closed session, made public later, showed Joseph N. Welch, counsel for the Army officials, told the Senate Investigations Subcommittee:

"Neither side is bound to have a 100 per cent clear cut victory."

Roy M. Cohn, McCarthy's chief counsel, was on the stand throughout the day.

Charge Repeated

He repeated under oath a charge that Secretary of the Army Stevens and Army Counselor John G. Adams tried to switch a McCarthy investigation from the Army to the Navy and Air Force.

But he denied Welch's suggestions that he really was saying the Army officials tried to "rat on" and "turn traitor" to the other services—and that Stevens offered to become "the prize in former of all time."

McCarthy jumped into that exchange, saying ironically he was taking on the job of "defense attorney for Mr. Stevens."

The Wisconsin senator asked Cohn if Stevens and Adams offered to do more than any loyal citizen would do—that is, "give us information about wrongdoing" in the Air Force and Navy.

"Absolutely not, sir," Cohn replied.

Target Date

Acting Chairman Mundt (R-SD) called on both sides in the dispute to submit by Thursday the names of any additional witnesses they want called. Then, Mundt said, a target date will be set for ending the inquiry. He predicted it will end next week.

The Republicans turned down, 4 to 3, a Democratic drive in the closed session to subpoena Clark Clifford, onetime aid to President Truman Mundt said, however, Clifford's name popped up in the inquiry last Friday. A monitored telephone call disclosed that Symington proposed Clifford, now in private law practice, as a possible adviser to Stevens in the Army secretary's clash with McCarthy last February.

Grandsinger Trial Jury Is Dismissed

VALENTINE, Neb. (AP)—The jury was dismissed Tuesday in the first degree murder charge trial of Loyd Grandsinger, 22, and District Judge E. L. Meyer heard testimony regarding statements made by Grandsinger after his capture.

The judge will decide whether the statements may be presented to the jury in the case involving the one shot slaying of State Safety Patrolman Marvin Hansen last April 9.

Telling of the statements in Tuesday's sessions were Postel Inspector George H. Reis, Pierre, S. D.; Cherry County District Court Clerk Ben S. Wilkinsen, Stenographer Mrs. Francis Wells, Court Reporter Ted McAleny of O'Neill and Patrol Lt. Leo Knudtson of Scottsbluff.

Grandsinger himself was also on the stand and he asserted the statement was obtained by duress and that at a re-enactment at the scene of the shooting he was threatened with violence by an officer. At the session end Grandsinger was smiling and appeared confident.

There was no mention Tuesday as to whether a written statement obtained from Grandsinger contained a reference to his having said he had fired a shot "in the direction of the officer."

Joe-Army Feud Moves Toward Early Windup

WASHINGTON (AP)—The McCarthy-Army hearings began moving fast Tuesday toward an early windup—with the Army camp's chief counsel predicting neither side will score a clear cut victory.

But the feud between Sens. McCarthy (R-Wis) and Symington (D-Mo) rose to a new peak of bitterness.

Symington told McCarthy he ought to consult a psychiatrist, and the Wisconsin senator offered to put his whole career under public scrutiny if Symington will testify under oath about his role in the present row.

Speedup moves were launched in televised sessions and in a closed meeting as the inquiry neared the end of its seventh week. The record of the closed session, made public later, showed Joseph N. Welch, counsel for the Army officials, told the Senate Investigations Subcommittee:

"Neither side is bound to have a 100 per cent clear cut victory."

Roy M. Cohn, McCarthy's chief counsel, was on the stand throughout the day.

Charge Repeated

He repeated under oath a charge that Secretary of the Army Stevens and Army Counselor John G. Adams tried to switch a McCarthy investigation from the Army to the Navy and Air Force.

But he denied Welch's suggestions that he really was saying the Army officials tried to "rat on" and "turn traitor" to the other services—and that Stevens offered to become "the prize in former of all time."

McCarthy jumped into that exchange, saying ironically he was taking on the job of "defense attorney for Mr. Stevens."

The Wisconsin senator asked Cohn if Stevens and Adams offered to do more than any loyal citizen would do—that is, "give us information about wrongdoing" in the Air Force and Navy.

"Absolutely not, sir," Cohn replied.

Target Date

Acting Chairman Mundt (R-SD) called on both sides in the dispute to submit by Thursday the names of any additional witnesses they want called. Then, Mundt said, a target date will be set for ending the inquiry. He predicted it will end next week.

The Republicans turned down, 4 to 3, a Democratic drive in the closed session to subpoena Clark Clifford, onetime aid to President Truman Mundt said, however, Clifford's name popped up in the inquiry last Friday. A monitored telephone call disclosed that Symington proposed Clifford, now in private law practice, as a possible adviser to Stevens in the Army secretary's clash with McCarthy last February.

'Geneva Meet Nears Showdown'—Dulles

Secretary In Omaha Wednesday

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles who will visit Omaha Wednesday, said Tuesday the Geneva conference is nearing the showdown stage on peace talks for Korea and Indo-China.

He told his news conference the Reds are "dragging their feet on peace" at the conference while at the same time stepping up the war against hard-pressed French union armies in Indo-China.

"The fact... is a commentary upon the general attitude of the Communists," he said, and "gives a lie to their professed love for peace."

Some of his news conference comments later were released for direct quotation.

Dulles said his plan for united action by free world nations to block further Red aggression in southeast Asia "is still a practical one," but he said it is possible a time may come when it is outated by later developments.

Acceptance Awaited

He acknowledged that other nations have not yet accepted his plan, and that as a "matter of practical politics," there is therefore no present plan for President Eisenhower to ask Congress for authority to intervene in southeast Asia.

Dulles reiterated that the United States has "no intention of dealing with this single-handedly," unless the Red's launch new attacks in the Far East, or intervene openly in Indo-China.

With the Geneva talks coming to a head, Dulles said, that in order to spend as much time as possible at his State Department desk he has decided to delay until late Wednesday his departure on a three-day speaking trip to the West coast. He had planned to leave earlier in the day.

On his speaking trip, Dulles will fly from Washington at 5 p.m. Wednesday. At Omaha he will address a dinner meeting of the Chamber of Commerce.

He will leave Omaha Wednesday and fly to Seattle where on Thursday morning he will deliver a 30-minute speech to an International Rotary gathering and on to San Francisco for an evening reception and then to Los Angeles for a noon speech on Friday. He will return to Washington Saturday.

Research Work Brings Honors

Research in thin shell concrete design during the past several years has brought enviable recognition to a University of Nebraska professor, George C. Ernst, chairman of the department of civil engineering.

The Department of Architecture and Civil Engineering of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, planning a national conference on thin shell concrete design, invited Professor Ernst to participate in a discussion of design problems and asked for a report on research and publication in the field.

After Professor Ernst returned what he thought was a routine questionnaire, M.I.T. responded quickly with a request for him to give the principal paper, at the conference which will be held at Cambridge, Mass., June 21-23. M.I.T.'s communication indicated that Professor Ernst is one of the best-informed authorities on thin shell concrete design in the nation.

At Nebraska's Doorstep

As a part of the program observing the centennial anniversary of Nebraska Territory, and through the generosity of the railroads operating in this state, a car containing an extensive territorial exhibit starts from Lincoln today to visit all sections of the state. It will be constantly in use from now on until early September, visiting all parts of Nebraska, staffed by two representatives of the Nebraska State Historical Society, two actually in charge of the exhibit itself. The public is invited to visit and to inspect the exhibit in its swing through Nebraska. The territorial era in Nebraska is one of fascinating interest. Those early beginnings were crude and primitive. Present-day Nebraskans surely will have a much better measure of the labors and the resulting achievements that have taken place in one short swift century if they visit this exhibit of territorial days. The itinerary has been so arranged to place the exhibit at the doorstep of hundreds of thousands of Nebraskans.

McKay Knows How?

It was Congress which gave approval to the so-called Pick-Sloan plan for Missouri Basin development. Authorization for it came out of congressional action in 1944—action intended then to define a policy for flood control along with resource development. There never has been any attitude among the peoples of the Missouri River Basin that the Pick-Sloan plan was the answer to all ills—or even the final answer to the program of comprehensive river basin development. The strength of the Pick-Sloan plan rested in the fact that it found favor in certain quarters in contrast with the authority approach in river development. The people of the basin were given to understand that the Pick-Sloan plan gave local communities and the states a larger voice than an MVA. Now Secretary of the Interior McKay has announced that the Missouri Basin Development Program will be reviewed by a committee of President Eisenhower's cabinet in line with the President's "determination to modernize" federal water resource policies and programs. Poppycock! Why doesn't this fellow, McKay, come out and say what he is thinking? What does he mean when he talks about "modernizing" the water resource program? There is only one real controversy in any of this program affecting flood control, irrigation, power, and other phases of a comprehensive resource development. That is the generation of electricity and its sale direct to consumers under a program of public power. It would be relatively easy and simple to reconcile all of these minor differences were it not for the construction of big storage dams, and the generation and sale of electricity. There would be no quarrel over power, even, if the private utilities were given the preference in distributing it to the people of the Missouri Basin. There is where the battle starts and ends. And that, there is reason to believe, is what Secretary McKay has in mind when he talks about "modernizing" federal water resource policies and programs. So far as the Pick-Sloan plan is concerned, Secretary McKay not having lived in this region may not know it but the people want those big dams now in the course of construction finished, and completed as rapidly as is possible. They represent the major installations which are a part of the Pick-Sloan plan. Oahe, Garrison, Ft. Randall, Gavins Point, coupled with Ft. Peck completed years ago, have the storage capacity to handle the flood problems on the main stream of the Missouri. They will make an important contribution to irrigation and to an increased supply of electricity. What has McKay in mind now?

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

Joe McCarthy's latest outburst in the hearings before a Senate subcommittee imposes upon public credulity. In substance the Wisconsin Senator suggests to the American people that the battle over Pvt. Schine was plotted by a Democrat, Sen. Symington of Missouri. If one were to sit down to examine the charge coldly, there could be only the conclusion that a desperate McCarthy has pulled out all stops and no longer cares whether what he says makes even a common garden variety of common sense.

Stevens is Eisenhower's selection for secretary of the Army. He is a member of the Eisenhower team, a staunch Republican, a devoted loyal aide to the President. Yet McCarthy would have the American people believe that Stevens fell for a plot brewed by Symington to touch off the bitterness of bitter rows affecting Republican party fortunes. McCarthy is asking for a great deal if he anticipates that the American people, or that portion of the public which gives any real thought to the present brawl between the administration and McCarthy will buy that one. Stevens may be stupid (McCarthy, referring to the secretary of the Army, uses the word, "naive"), but surely a man competent to head up an important branch of national defense is not that stupid. The hearings have been in progress nearly a month now. No end seems to be in sight, either as to when they can be brought to an end or as to results. No doubt many Americans lost interest after the opening days, but it is an amazing fact—possibly disturbing—that what started out in a depressing atmosphere can continue to contribute a fresh sensation nearly every day.

Falling Into His Trap

As to contributing any healthy result, certainly at this stage it would be foolhardy to suggest that this proceeding, so wasteful of time, energy, and money, will produce anything of value. But there are intangibles which never can be weighed immediately. If the brawl should convince Congress that it should give attention to procedural practice in the innumerable congressional investigations of recent years, all the time and energy that have been put in will be well worth while. Some Washington observers suggest that the discrepancy in the testimony given by individuals involved in the dispute may lead to perjury action by Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell. He really holds the key spot in all of this business.

One thing which the American people really expected to get out of a change in plunking for a return to Republican policy under President Eisenhower was a belief that there would be unity in Washington. They were wrong. The row between McCarthy and the Army may be more spectacular but in ultimate results it cannot possibly match the bitter controversy that has broken out in the Atomic Energy Commission. There is a hassle between the chairman and some of his colleagues which has received relatively few headlines and news space but which actually is just as deep-seated as this conflict between McCarthy and the Army. There are others within agencies and groups, all of which might have been inevitable but which certainly reflect Mr. Eisenhower's own timidity in accepting the responsibilities which became his when he became President. The factions within a traditionally well-disciplined political organization have been tearing at each other's hair until Washington has become the center of bickering and controversy. Actually the fight between elements of the party in power is more bitter at this time than the struggle between Mr. Eisenhower and the loyal opposition.

Gov. Dewey used to talk about the quarreling, snarling, embittered Democratic factions which made administration under a Democratic President difficult, if not impossible. There was much to lend strength to his criticism. But if it was bad then, it is as bad if not worse now. And the Dewey influence in the Eisenhower administration is in the center of it at this time. It has not been necessary for Sen. Symington or anyone else to read anyone on. By common consent these irreconcilable GOP factions and feudists are having at it in keeping with the latest tradition.

Historic America

Last week was the tenth anniversary of the historic landings at Omaha and Utah beaches and the beginning of the battle of Normandy. The newspapers gave it a play and no doubt the veterans who were there quickened again with the fearful memories of those noisome, deadly days. But veterans generally commune with themselves about such experiences. It is so futile for them to try to form a meeting of minds with those who were not there. The rest of the country took the anniversary in stride.

So goes such high and searing pieces of history in these hurried dangerous days. The world is still dangerous and turbulent. The rush for the beaches was but one contribution in the massive quest for world order. The sacrifices that will finally bring it continue on. The price is high but it will ultimately be paid and the bargain is worth it.

The weary and the faint-hearted are not entitled to prevail. When one frees himself from the details, he can be mighty proud of his country. It has held to the line. For its first awakening to the moral and material need for world co-operation dedicated to the betterment of the individual man, it has not wavered. From lease lend to the commitment of men in war; from there to the sharing of its own purse with the fallen, and then to the recommitment of men for the principle in Korea to its present and continuing resistance to reaction, it has stood before the world as the historic example of a tremendous force for human welfare. Others have faltered, but not America.

Bomb Target

Austin Bacon, assistant deputy of Civil Defense, aimed an awakening jab at Nebraskans when he said the state was in the path of any atomic war the future might bring. He was working to stimulate more action and attention in connection with the state's job of preparing for bad days that may come.

Bacon said a logical thing when he asserted that air fields, not industrial centers would be the first concern of an enemy attacker. If the planes could be grounded there could be little if any retaliation. The attacker then safe at home could proceed at his convenience to scramble our cities.

Nebraska not only has two highly important air installations at Offutt field and at Lincoln; it has other strategic prizes that an enemy would like to destroy.

Van Fleet Says Make China Main Target

WASHINGTON — Gen. James Van Fleet, called home in the middle of a presidential fact-finding mission in the Far East, has recommended reopening the Korean war, invading the Chinese mainland, and unleashing our atomic weapons—if. The "if" is in case we are forced into a military showdown over Indo-China.

Van Fleet made it clear, however, that he doesn't favor U. S. intervention in Indo-China except as a last, desperate resort.

Testifying behind closed doors of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Van Fleet stressed that the fighting in Asia should be done by Asian troops backed by American air and sea power.

If we are drawn into the Indo-China war, Van Fleet advocated giving Syngman Rhee the green light to attack in Korea and turning Chiang Kai-shek's troops loose on the mainland in order to keep the Chinese Reds "engaged in many quarters."

He also urged that "we should go in with everything we've got, including atomic weapons."

Van Fleet also spoke favorably of backing a Chinese nationalist invasion of the mainland regardless of the outcome in Indo-China, though he made no out-and-out recommendation to this effect.

He suggested that some Chinese generals now on the Communist side could be bribed into switching their allegiance to Chiang Kai-shek. Van Fleet quoted Chiang as predicting "mass defections" from the Communist army if the nationalists ever returned to the mainland.

Van Fleet admitted that Chiang's army is growing old and needs "new blood," but claimed that native Formosans are slowly being integrated into the army. For example, he cited a reserve program that trains 20,000 young Formosans every four months, then releases them back into civilian life.

Van Fleet also admitted that Chiang's army is untested.

"You can't tell about an army until it has been tested," he said. It had been a mistake, he added, not to send a couple nationalist divisions to Korea and test them under fire.

"Chiang's army has been trained and retrained. It is only now getting the equipment it needs," reported the general whose letter from Korea in the 1952 campaign did so much to win votes for Eisenhower.

He said we are fast approaching the hour of decision in the Far East, though he thought it wouldn't be too late to take decisive action "within the next 12 months."

MARQUIS CHILDS

Next Fortnight May Decide War Or Peace

(Editor's note: In the following column Marquis Childs reveals how close to actual war the U.S. is on the side of France, in the Indo-China conflict. He maintains that the next 10 days or two weeks will produce the turning point.)

WASHINGTON — The days just ahead will test the issue of war or peace more gravely than at any time since the end of World War II nearly nine years ago.

Within 10 days or two weeks it will be clear whether an armistice in Indo-China acceptable to the Laniel government in Paris can be reached. The opinion is growing here that if a reasonable armistice cannot be agreed upon, either in Geneva or in Paris, then the United States will intervene in the war even if this means intervention without the British and other allies.

High French officials are saying more or less openly that American policy-makers have promised American action if the Communist forces in Indo-China press on for the full measure of victory. The French are saying, in effect, this:

Either the Communists agree to end the war or the United States moves in with air and sea power. Nothing else is now possible and we shall know in 10 days or more how it is to go.

Whether the American commitment to France is as final as this cannot be determined from American sources. Even if it were not as final, there would be no inclination at this point to disavow it, since the bargaining power of the French at Geneva would be gravely weakened.

Informed observers are now inclined to believe that talk of intervention is not a bluff put out to bolster the position of the west at Geneva. They take as a fairly accurate statement of American policy intentions the remarks of Sen. Knowland, Republican majority leader, that the United States must act with military force if it develops that within the next 30 days there is no armistice in Indo-China and the Communists push forward to take Hanoi and the rich Red river delta.

Top French officials have passed on to American policy-makers the French estimate that the Viet-Minh will soon have available in the delta around Hanoi eight full divisions. Even with the recent French reinforcements from elsewhere in Indo-China, this Red force is considerably in excess of that at the disposal of the new French commander-in-chief, Gen. Paul Ely.

Whether these eight divisions will be unleashed against French strongpoints protecting Hanoi and the vital Hanoi-Haiphong

Note—Van Fleet wrote a letter during the election campaign implying that the Truman administration had lagged in training South Korean troops. The letter was read by Eisenhower in one of his campaign broadcasts. Later, Van Fleet, was retired, somewhat in a huff, because he had expected to be continued by his old friend in the White House whom he had helped. Van Fleet's current inspection trip was arranged partly to appease his ire.

ATOMIC GESTAPO

The final straw that has made members of the Atomic Energy Commission see red against Chairman Adm. Lewis Strauss is a recording device installed by Strauss at commission meetings.

In the past, commission meetings have been informal, relaxed, and featured all sorts of fascinating philosophical discussions of the future of atomic power. Today they are ice-cold, stiff, and edgy. Every commissioner knows that every word he says is being recorded, and he talks as little as possible before the Wall Street banker who has become czar of atomic energy.

The commissioners know that since the friends and words of Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer 15 years ago were used against him today, together with his lack of "enthusiasm" for the hydrogen bomb, their words also may be used against them in the future. So there is less and less discussion, less and less honest agreement.

"Today," said one man, "we enthuse. We are all making a record. We can only hope that while we are making enthusiasm, they are making progress in making bombs out in the field."

Note—Phone-tapping of commissioners' telephones by security officers on behalf of Adm. Strauss is now considered routine. None of the three commissioners opposing Strauss says anything important over the telephone.

White House aides have hinted that President Eisenhower may veto the bill to legalize wiretapping, if the Senate weakens it with too many restrictions.

The Senate Judiciary Committee hasn't taken a final vote on the wiretap bill, but it is almost certain to refuse Attorney General Brownell's request for a free hand to tap telephones.

Many senators are afraid of their own phones being tapped, and won't agree to allowing wiretaps without a court order. Others want to restrict wiretapping to the FBI.

communications line is the element of uncertainty.

For President Eisenhower the situation is distinctly embarrassing. In his campaign two years ago he repeatedly promised to try to end the war in Korea. To students at the University of Illinois, for example, in the heat of the contest he said from the end of his campaign train that Asians should fight Asians and that Illinois farm boys should stay on the farm.

But not long before the fall of Dien Bien Phu the President at a press conference said that the fall of Indo-China would be a disaster to the free world. It is between these two extremes that, if the commitment is finally for action, the President must try to steer a course that will not seem to openly repudiate what is already in the record.

Certainly, in the beginning intervention would be announced on the basis of air and sea power. The impression gained by the British military chiefs from Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, was that Radford believed the tide could be turned without the use of ground forces. This was one of the sharpest cleavages between the British and the American view.

Because of their skepticism on this score, the British took a dim view of Radford's claim that in from six to nine months Gen. James Van Fleet, who successfully trained Korean divisions, could put together a trained and fighting army of Viet-Namers.

President Eisenhower would be extremely reluctant to go to Congress with a request for authorization to intervene in the long and bitter jungle war. He has several times shown more caution than either Radford or Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. At last week's press conference he was asked about statements made by two senators to the effect that he would shortly go to Congress with a resolution empowering him to act. He replied that nothing like a firm decision in this respect had been taken.

But the previous acts and deeds of the chief members of the Eisenhower military-diplomatic team, plus developing circumstances in the Indo-Chinese struggle, may leave him with no alternative. The attack pressed on Hanoi with eight Viet-Minh divisions would imperil considerable civilian population in the outpost.

A rising tide of sympathy for the plight of those civilians would underwrite the convictions of American military chiefs, and conspicuously Radford, that intervention is imperative to American security.

So in the days and weeks ahead the United States will be on the edge of the abyss.

ALYSON

Rally To Oppenheimer

Editor's Note: The nation's top nuclear scientists in the great majority affirmed faith in Dr. Robert Oppenheimer who was declared a security risk by a 2-to-1 security board ruling. They regard the case as dangerous to necessary relations between science and defense. Others, more concerned with the terms of approved citizenship than with science, wonder if America has not dabbled with the Communists' tyrannous application that a subject may perform valuable services to the state and may give it his complete loyalty, yet he is to be considered dangerous and outcast if he permits his patriotic thoughts to differ from those of his political superiors.

HUGH C. WOLFE

The separation of Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer from public service brings into question the whole Eisenhower security program, as it is being administered, on two major points:

1. Shall a man be forever in jeopardy of being judged a security risk on the same charges? A series of judgments on the relevance of Oppenheimer's admitted political naivete in the 1930s has been made by responsible men and boards, including General Groves and the present head of the AEC, Adm. Strauss, on the basis of most of the same charges and the same evidence which is now available. They found him fit to serve his country and he has rendered a service few men can match.

2. Shall a citizen be held liable to charges of disloyalty because he has accepted and discharged the responsibility of giving the best advice of which he was capable, if, at a later date and on the basis of later developments, those who are then in positions of authority conclude that it was not good advice? I can think of no surer way to eliminate from government service the kind of responsible and able citizen who would be capable of making decisions on major questions, and to reduce government service at high level to futile backpassing.

SAMUEL K. ALLISON

The nation owes him a debt which it can never adequately repay. I do not know any person in the United States who could have provided the brilliant leadership at Los Alamos that he did, working in selfless devotion, and endangering his precarious health.

HAROLD C. UREY

If he were anything but a loyal citizen of the United States, the FBI and Military Intelligence should have an ironclad case against him after the 10 years and more during which they have known the facts which have now been made public. For years Op-

Potential Allies

Lincoln, Neb. To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Gloom following Dien Bien Phu! Surprise and gloom following the Communist "take-over" of the Geneva convention! Has the non-Communist world been conditioned to expect defeat so that it can attempt to do the impossible and negotiate for peace with implacable victors? Likewise, are we being taught to ignore and discourage them to justify our own defeatism?

Just why Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists continue to draw an unfavorable or negative "press" is a mystery unless it is a hang-over from the same persistent influences which vilified the Chinese Nationalists and conditioned us to the loss of China as an ally while convincing us that their Communist enemies were only "agrarian reformers."

It is somewhat difficult to find justification for continuing the struggle in Asia against Communism, judging from press and radio releases. To find that the whole picture is not adequately presented and that we may not be receiving a "balanced news diet," let's go to the somewhat lesser known but specialized sources such as The American Legion Magazine, The Freeman, and the National Bulletin of the Military Order of the World Wars. This represents no research on our part, but only reports from some specialized publications not found on news stands.

1. The American Legion Magazine, May, 1954, in the article, "Does China Have a Chance?" John C. Caldwell, the author, was born in China of missionary parents. He indicates that the Nationalist Chinese now hold 56 strategic islands, controlling 499 miles of coast in three maritime provinces. These Nationalist forces are controlling a half million Chinese Communist troops. In many selected battles, control of seven large areas on the Chinese mainland has been secured. Communists are reported to have surrendered readily to Nationalists when the opportunity is presented. On the mainland, it is reported by this observer, chaos is rampant and recruitment at Communist brutality is universal, that the provinces are ripe for a step-by-step invasion by Chiang from beach-head already established.

Do we remember that Chiang offered troops to the Korean forces and the United Nations rejected the offer? Chiang maintained that the Chinese Communies would surrender when they saw the Chinese Nationalist flags in the lines. One wonders who was right, bearing in mind that Chiang's intelligence reports are rated as the best available.

The Legion article indicates that a vast and successful civilian reform on Formosa has made that island the best governed area in Asia. It reminds us that the enslaved millions of China, the eight million Nationalists in Formosa, and the 20 million Nationalists outside the Iron Curtain in other lands look to the United States for help, but not for manpower. That they have and will continue to get in abundance once invasion begins.

2. The Freeman, May 17, 1954, in the contemporary article, "Formosa and Freedom," by Rodney Gilbert, confirms everything said in the Legion article. In substance, this experienced newsmen with 40 years in and about China, the last three or four years on Formosa, says:

"From behind the incredible penheimer has given much of his time and thought to the affairs of the United States government at the request of its elected and appointed officers, who knew the essentials of his record throughout.

The American people should realize how seriously our science and technology have been damaged by the events of the last few days. From now on scientists will be suspected of being unreliable people. Young people may hesitate to choose science as a life work. Scientists will be reluctant to serve the Government in sensitive areas.

If we wish to retain the physical, moral and intellectual leadership of the world, we should grow up and stop acting like hysterical children.

FARRINGTON DANIELS

Perhaps the price of secrecy and so-called security is too high. Perhaps its disadvantages outweigh its advantages. What we want is effective service to the nation. A man's present attitude and future actions are more important than the associations of his youth. Perhaps digging in the dustpiles of the 1930s takes valuable time and energy which should be spent on the realities of the 1950s and the urgent challenge of the 1960s.

Scientists have exerted influence in framing legislation for atomic energy problems, and in correcting mistakes in the handling of a government scientific agency. They seem to be facing the most serious new challenge.

EDWARD CONDON

Great harm has been done to American security and to our national unity by a long series of dishonest political attacks on scientists. I have known Robert Oppenheimer well since 1926. He is truly a great physicist, a brilliant and hard-working man who served our military needs with maximum distinction, a wise man with an extraordinary degree of insight into the major political crises of our time.

His mobilizing of American scientists and a large group of refugees from Hitler into an effective working group that made the atomic bomb in time to win the war for us is an achievement unprecedented in human history. Instead of the honors and plaudits he so richly deserves, he must suffer harassment and anxiety. Our country is denied the strength growing out of such rare services as he has given us in the past, and which are so sorely needed today.

ALBERT EINSTEIN

The systematic and widespread attempt to destroy mutual trust and confidence constitutes the severest possible blow against society.

OFF THE RECORD

and there are no worthwhile allies? Meanwhile, these allies who hate Communism and have fought it for years must be amazed to observe us loudly expressing our animosity toward their enemies, but hastening to get along with the Communist governments under the exploded theory that there can be "containment of Communism" or "co-existence" with it. The seasoned enemies of Communism know that there can be no peace until the Communist governments are destroyed—by their own people and with our help. If this is not accomplished, we will be destroyed.

It is our hope that we speedily learn more about our potential allies in Asia, and this little study is presented only for that constructive purpose.

Halfway Mark Hit In Assessment Complaints

The Lancaster County Board of Equalization guessed that perhaps the halfway point in real estate assessment complaints had been reached "numerically," but that time "is another question."

If every day is counted, since the 40-day equalization period began May 17, the final day would be June 25.

However, if Sundays are not counted, the board could remain in session until June 30.

An opinion as to what constitutes the statutory 40 days has been requested from the Attorney General's office by Chief Dep. Co. Atty. Elmer Scheele.

One equalization board member said he understands there's quite a backlog of complaints, but that many are filed as "protective complaints."

He said some appraisals are being rechecked by Wilkins and Associates, and that the complaints filed are for the property owner's protection during the appraisal recheck.

Demand For Farm Laborers Is Light

The demand for farm laborers in Nebraska continues light, the State Labor Department reported Tuesday.

The labor supply is adequate in almost all categories except beet workers. But the supply of beet field hands has been supplemented by the importation of Mexican nationals.

A total of 242 farm workers were placed on jobs last week. Of these, 89 were beet workers and 49 were single farm hands.

The wage range on single farm hands runs from $100 to $225 per month plus board and room. Tractor operators are reported being offered $1 per hour.

Fraternal, Flag Week Proclaimed

Next week is a double-duty week: It is flag week, and also fraternal week, according to proclamations signed by Gov. Robert Crosby.

"In these days of world strife and turmoil, the flag of the United States of America has become a living symbol of the pioneering determination of the citizens of this nation to preserve the liberty, freedom and dignity of the individual," he declared in the flag week proclamation.

The fraternal week proclamation noted the purposes for which lodges are organized: charitable, beneficial, patriotic and benevolent, and "for the uplift and betterment of their members and the various communities in which lodges are located."

The only gasoline made with the added super aviation fuel component Di-isopropyl. A Phillips exclusive—developed originally for highest powered military aircraft.

Now authorities have removed restrictions and these powerful aviation components can be blended into Phillips 66 FLITE-FUEL.

New Phillips 66 FLITE-FUEL provides increased power, higher anti-knock, greater fuel economy, and freedom from cold stalling. And you benefit from famous Phillips 66 controlled volatility. FLITE-FUEL also gives you the clean burning qualities that result from use of natural and aviation gasoline components.

Only Phillips 66 FLITE-FUEL contains added Di-isopropyl. Get it at stations where you see the famous Phillips 66 Shield.

motor oil... S.A.E. 10W-30. It can be chilled to a temperature below zero, and still flow easily for quick starting. Yet at 180° it retains the film strength needed for protection at high temperatures. TROP-ARTIC is a worthy companion product to new Phillips 66 FLITE-FUEL. They go together for better engine performance.

POSTCARD

"No taxis," said the doorman at the Hotel Fenix peering up and down the street. "Es la hora critica. The critical hour."

It was 9 o'clock in the evening. The cocktail hour in Spain. Up on the Gran Via you can scarcely walk. It is crowded like Fifth Avenue on the lunch hour.

All Spanish hours are critical to me. The Spanish clock is not geared to American habits. When Spain is sleeping, I am working. When Madrid goes to bed, I am just getting up.

The Spanish businessman goes to work about 10:30 in the morning. At 1 o'clock, Madrid shuts up shop. They eat the big lunch and go home and sleep.

Nine o'clock is the cocktail hour.

Dinner starts at 10 but most people eat about 11.

At midnight the night clubs open again. The first floor show is at 1:30 in the morning. Madrijenos get home from 4 to 5 a.m. At 7 o'clock the American tourists get up and wonder where everybody is.

The Gran Via was packed with people at 9:30 in the evening. Gentlemen follow unaccompanied ladies down the street making romantic remarks.

"St. Peter must have lost the keys. For here is a little angel escaped from heaven."

The ladies walk along in pairs and threes. They pretend they do not hear these gallant statements. Everybody window shops.

At 11:30 I wandered over to the Casablanca. Madrid has a number of excellent night clubs and they are inexpensive by dollar standards.

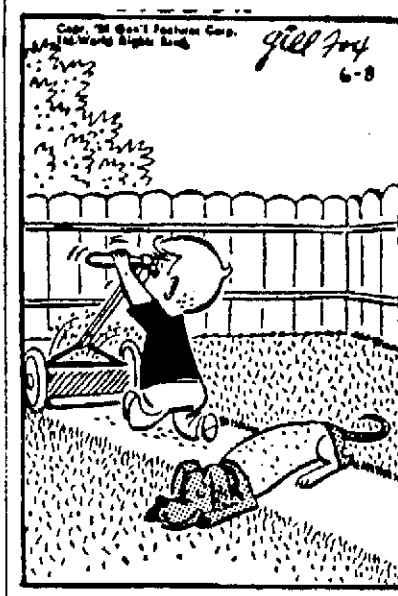

The waiters thought I must have come in to collect a bill. The orchestra was just warming up. But promptly at midnight, the place began to fill. At 12:30 it was jammed. At 1:15 I was so sleepy I called for the bill. Even the manager came over to see what was wrong.

"But the first floor show is just starting," he protested. He presented me with a silhouette someone had clipped and pasted while I was not looking. It made me look 10 years younger.

"It is the equal of you," he said flatteringly. "Stay. Drink. Be gay. At 3 o'clock, another floor show."

"Toujours gai," I agreed. "The problem is, for me this is la hora critica."

Madrid was jumping all around me as I drove home. It was exhausting just to see it.

Dance License For Capitol Beach Beer Garden Okyed; No Opposition

Lancaster County Commissioners have approved a dance license for the beer garden at Capitol Beach following a public hearing at which no opposition was voiced.

Operator Roy Talbott told the board "there's plenty of room inside for dancing," but he was considering "pouring a concrete slab outside for outdoor dancing."

The proposal has the approval of Gerald Carpenter, Capitol Beach manager, Talbott said. He saw no conflict between his operation and the beach's ballroom.

"No Tipping" Policy Adopted In other action, the county board reduced a $37.80 claim for meals for two juries by $2.80, the amount included on the tab for tips.

The board said the tips, ten cents per person, (12 jurors and two bailiffs) had been added to the bill by Hotel Cornhusker, but that the supplier had consented to reduction of the claim. However, the billing provoked discussion as to whether or not tips are a legitimate governmental expense.

One commissioner pointed out that "tipping has become the American way of life" and that many governmental bodies make allowance for such expense.

The board decided on a "no tipping" policy and instructed a court attache that such gratuities would be an "out of the pocket" expense for individuals.

Surprise School Merger Facing Voters

5 Districts In Proposal

Lincoln Star Special
SURPRISE, Neb. — Thursday will be election day for the voters in five Butler County school districts in this area. They will be casting their ballots in regard to a proposed merger of five elementary school districts, 4, 40, 45, 47 and 83.

The proposal, which has been approved by the county and state committees on school reorganization, would combine the districts and use the facilities of the Surprise school building.

First Reorganization Try
It is the first attempt at reorganization of school districts in Butler County, and is being closely watched by local school reorganization observers.

Voters from districts 4, 40, 45, and 47 will vote as a unit and the voters in district 83, the Surprise school, will ballot as a separate unit. The Surprise Town Hall is the voting place for both groups.

The election is being supervised by the county committee on reorganization.

Driver License Law Changes Are Proposed

NORTH PLATTE, Neb. (AP)—Changes in the state's driver license laws are being proposed by the Nebraska state Lions Clubs organization.

They would have the license blanks include a space for listing the holder's blood type, have them expire every two years on the holder's birthday, require examination with each renewal and have civilian employees of the highway department give the tests rather than state safety patrolmen who thus would be freed for patrol duty.

Support Given To Toll Roads Is 'Deplorable'

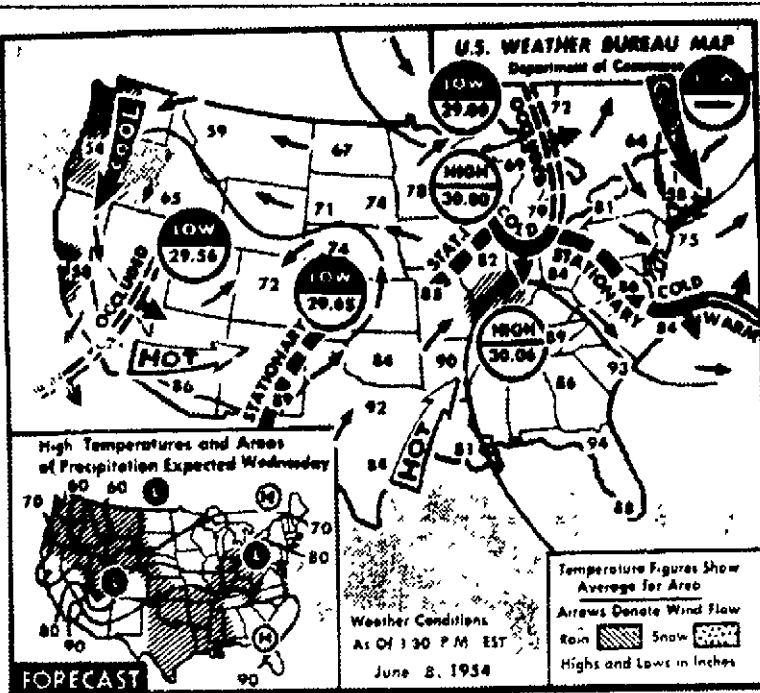

NORTH PLATTE, Neb. (AP)—Oscar Dobbins of Kearney, retiring president of the Nebraska Highway 30 Assn. Tuesday "deplorable" the support given to Rep. A. L. Miller, Kimball, to toll roads in Nebraska.

Dobbins said Miller was "off base" and was either "poorly informed" or "not being honest" in supporting toll roads. He added that from a standpoint of safety "we can not afford to wait" for toll roads and that 30 across the state should be put in first class shape before consideration is given to toll roads.

Incoming President William Lux of Columbus told of association plans to issue a brochure, in co-operation with the Highway 30 Association of Wyoming and Iowa advertising the highway as the shortest connecting link for anyone traveling from either coast to the other coast.

Association members from North Platte, Kearney, Ogallala, Grand Island, Lexington, Columbus, Schuyler, Gothenburg, Blair, Fremont, Chappell, Central City, and Sidney attended the meeting here. Sidney invited the association directors to hold their August meeting in that city.

For the first time the convention will feature an industrial exhibition of various kinds of equipment which county governmental agencies use.

The convention program points out the exhibition is aimed at the twin problem of growing public needs and limited budgets.

Most of the convention will be taken up with sectional meetings. There will be two general sessions. At the first Thursday morning, Gov. Robert B. Crosby of Nebraska, will speak on the "Responsibility of County Government."

Collins To Speak
Douglas County Sheriff Richard Collins will speak during the opening exercises on the "Tradition and Glory of the Middle West" and Omaha's newly elected Mayor John Rosenblatt, will give an address of welcome.

The second general session will be held Friday when committee reports will be heard and the election of officers will take place.

Banquet Scheduled
Rep. Roman L. Hruska (R-Neb) honorary chairman of the conference, and a former Douglas County, Neb., and NACO official, will be master of ceremonies at an evening banquet.

New officers will be installed at the banquet.

Judge Fred B. Glass of Marlin, Tex., first vice president of NACO.

Kearney Man To Head VFW

NORFOLK, Neb. (AP)—F. M. Parker, 33, Kearney attorney and World War II veteran, Tuesday was advanced from senior vice commander to commander of the Nebraska department, Veterans of Foreign Wars, at the final session of 34th annual encampment at Norfolk.

Cleon E. Pratt, Elgin, also a World War II veteran, was elected senior vice commander; Don Devoe, North Platte, junior vice commander; Robert A. Lowe, Lincoln, quartermaster; Melvin Moss, Fairbury, judge advocate; the Rev. Thomas A. Barton, Grand Island, chaplain; Dr. R. C. UN Change Urged

The VFW adopted a resolution urging the United Nations rules be amended in a way that will deny Russia and satellite countries any opportunity to obstruct and defeat fundamental aims of the U.N., and the charter be amended in a way to require of all member nations equal sacrifices, both in money and manpower in proportion to their respective resources, when the U.N. votes to resist aggression in any part of the world.

The VFW also went on record as urging the United States exert every effort to effect immediate release of 950 American soldiers being held by Chinese Communists not as war prisoners but as political prisoners.

Other resolutions declared the VFW wants the Grand Island hospital to be used by the federal government as a hospital and for no other purposes, and pledged support to the Bricker amendment principals and legislation to outlaw Communism.

The department council later will select a 1955 convention city.

14-Year-Old Sets Out To Make Own Way; Lands Alliance Job

ALLIANCE, Neb. (AP)—Husky, 14-year-old Harold O. Simmons Jr. of Scottsbluff wanted to "see if I can make my own way."

And apparently he can, though his method of proving it caused some consternation among his elders.

Harold left home the night of May 26, leaving behind a note explaining his aim but giving no indication of where he was going.

Though he had saved $40 for a Boy Scout ranch trip, he left the money behind. He took with him the experience he had gained working for his father, foreman for a general contractor.

Police in several states were notified to be on the lookout for Harold but until last Sunday, when a school mate reported seeing him in Alliance, his whereabouts remained unknown.

On the school friend's tip, Harold was found working in Alliance and "making his own way very well."

After his parents talked to the boy and his employer they agreed to let him continue on the job until school starts with the understanding that he keep in touch with his family.

Marvel Will Not Seek Any Office

Eastern, South Central Moisture Supply Declared 'Very Good'

96 Per Cent Corn Crop Is Planted

The subsoil moisture supply for Nebraska's corn crop in eastern and south central areas is described as "very good," according to the weekly crop-weather report of the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics. All but 4 per cent of the corn acreage in the state had been planted as of last week end, the bureau said.

North of the Platte River in central Nebraska, however, the moisture situation is not as good, and southwest Nebraska still needs more subsoil soaking, according to the report.

The corn left to be planted is mostly in extreme southeastern counties where heavy rains stalled the job. Corn planting is about on schedule with last year, but considerably ahead of average.

Some Outworm Damage

Earliest corn has been cultivated twice in some places. But temperatures have been a little cool for fast growth and outworms have done some damage, the report said.

Elsewhere in Nebraska's crop picture, winter wheat showed further improvement. Early oats are heading and looking better, but barley needs more moisture in southwest Nebraska, the report observed.

Moisture is ample for wheat except in the southern Panhandle and southwest Nebraska.

Wheat is falling in southern Nebraska and has started to head except in north central and northwest Nebraska. About 40 per cent of the wheat had headed in the southern Panhandle by the close of last week. The crop is earlier than usual.

Good Oats Outlook

Some counties report the oats outlook to be the best in years. Rains delayed the harvesting of alfalfa in eastern Nebraska. Most counties report a very good crop and plenty of moisture to start the second crop. Wild hay and pasture improved and pasture generally is excellent except in the drier southwest.

On the livestock front, the report made these observations:

Slaughter of Nebraska cattle during the first four months of the year totaled 539,000 head, an increase of 18 per cent over the same period in 1953. Calf slaughter more than doubled, but sheep slaughter was down 6 per cent and hog kills down 18 per cent.

Nebraska egg production for the first four months was up 6 per cent.

Precipitation throughout Nebraska for the past week included:

75th Anniversary For DeWitt Church

This is the present building of the Trinity Lutheran Church at DeWitt, dedicated in 1912. It is the congregation's third building since the church was organized 75 years ago. (Photo Special to The Star.)

DeWitt Lutheran Church Event Speakers Represent 3 States

Lincoln Star Special

DEWITT, Neb.—When Trinity Lutheran Church of DeWitt observes its 75th anniversary on Trinity Festival, June 13, the list of speakers will include pastors from three Midwest states.

Dr. E. G. Fritschel, Denver, Colo., president of the Central District, American Lutheran Church, will preach in duplicate services at 9 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. Two sons of the congregation will occupy the pulpit for the other services.

For the afternoon confirmation reunion at 2:30 the Rev. Fred Darnauer of Jesup, Ia., will preach. The Rev. C. E. Schaff, Brainerd, will speak at 8 p.m., at which time he will present the challenge that faces the church of today.

Second Building Burned

Organized June 12, 1879, by the Rev. H. Klockmeyer, the congregation has served the community for three-quarters of a century. The first church building was erected 1880. The second and much larger church building was finished in the fall of 1910, but was destroyed by fire a year and a half later. The present building was dedicated on Reformation Day, 1912.

Four pastors have served the congregation these 75 years: the Rev. Klockmeyer, 1879-1882; the Rev. Alfred Fleischmann Sr., 1882-1906; the Rev. J. Schaff, 1906-1944; and the present pastor, Erwin F. Janssen, since September, 1944.

A feature of the June 13 anniversary observance is the roll call by confirmation classes. This will take place during the noon fellowship hour in the school gym. A 22 page anniversary booklet is being printed.

The congregation has active organizations for members in the various age groups. The Junior Missionaries are the children up to confirmation. The young people of the church are members of the Luther League. There is a men's group called the Brotherhood, for the women of the church there is the Ladies' Aid and the Women's Missionary Society.

Governor Slates Safety Conference

The executive committee of the Governor's Traffic Safety Committee will meet at the Capitol June 19 to consider suggestions that have been made for making highway travel safer in Nebraska, and to develop a program, Gov. Robert Crosby said.

The 35-member executive committee was formed at a meeting of the larger committee in Grand Island May 22.

The governor said many suggestions have come to the committee by letter. Among them, he said, was the suggested enlistment of the aid of professional advertising firms to promote safety education, stricter driver's license exams with periodic re-examination of drivers, and the posting of traffic fatality totals on patrol cars as is done in Iowa.

Saline County Courthouse

Erected in 1927 at a cost of $627,828 including fixtures, the Saline County courthouse at Wilber is one of the finest in the state. It is built of Carthage stone in the Grecian-Doric motif and stands on the site of the old courthouse which was built in 1878. Saline County American Legion posts laid the cornerstone on June 5, 1928. Fred Swanson, later killed in a Republican River flood was the contractor. A jail and sheriff's residence were erected across the street at the same time. In the early years the county seat of Saline County was a hotly contested issue. The county was organized in 1867 and its first county seat was at Swan City. In 1871 it was moved to Pleasant Hill and was later moved to Wilber in 1877 after a stirring election. Crete has also contested the site of the county seat. (Star Staff Photo.)

Grand Island Beer License Studied

The State Liquor Commission took under advisement the application of John Willman for an off-sale beer license for a new grocery store on South Locust St. at Grand Island.

The application came to the commission on appeal from the Hall County board which acted on the understanding that an individual may not hold more than one license.

Willman already holds a license for another location the commission was informed. Hall County Attorney Don Weaver represented the county board at the hearing.

Joan Claussen, Bride

MRS. WILLIAM GILES

For the wedding of Miss Joan Claussen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Claussen of Holdrege, and William Frederick Giles, son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Giles II, of St. Joseph, Mo., which took place at 3:30 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, June 8, the church of the First Presbyterian Church in Holdrege was arranged with white gladioli and white carnations, in pedestal urns, lighted cathedral candles in seven-branched holders, and greenery. The Rev. Donald Bean, minister of First Presbyterian, solemnized the service, and the wedding music was played by Mrs. Norris Hoken who also accompanied the vocalists, Miss Mary Jean Finney of Lincoln.

Wearing alike, waltz-length frocks of mystic blue taffeta, the attendants were Miss Helen Giles of St. Joseph, Mo., sister of the bridegroom, Miss Mary Kay Beachler of Grand Island, and Miss Caroline Goetz of Omaha, the bridesmaids. Unpressed pleats fashioned the bouffant skirts above which the fitted strapless bodices were covered with brief jackets with short, cuffed sleeves. Their bouquets of white carnations were accented with azalea pink. James Oliver of Shelton served Mr. Giles as best man, and the ushers included Gary Claussen, brother of the bride; Clifford Dale, Falls City; Donald Becker and James Cedar-dahl, both of Lincoln.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of white imported lace over white satin which was fashioned with a long-sleeved, sculptured bodice in which a deep yoke of illusion was encircled with an applique of iridescent sequins, and seed pearls. The exceedingly wide skirt was created of tiers of tulle, edged in lace, which extended into a long, aisle-wide train. Her double-tiered veil of silk illusion was fingertip length, and was held to the head with a demi-cap of shirred tulle, dotted with seed pearls. She carried a white Bible marked with white orchids.

After a honeymoon trip, for which Mrs. Giles wore a sheath frock of mystic blue imported linen with overall embroidery, a matching blue linen duster, small white hat and white accessories, Mrs. Giles and her bride will return to Holdrege for the summer. In the fall they will come to Lincoln to reside.

Mrs. Giles is a graduate of Colorado Women's College, Denver, Colo., and was graduated on Monday from the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. Mr. Giles is a senior at the University of Nebraska where he is a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity, Phi Epsilon Kappa, and of N Club of which he has served as president.

A MIGHTY BUSY WEEK

THIS week is busier than the proverbial cranberry merchant, and the exceedingly nice thing about it is that the activity is varied—Out Lincoln Country club way the golf course continues to be the most popular spot in town as far as the men participating in the three-day Swingfest are concerned—They rise and shine at the crack of dawn and are on the golf course by 9 a.m.—all of which leads us to believe that in spite of the fact they are having fun, they won't be too sorry when today is over—

And, as we mentioned yesterday, the three-day affair ends with a dinner-dance at the club this evening, for all members participating in the golf meet—and their guests—including the distaff side, and it is to be a very nice party indeed, provided the weather man cooperates.

PRECEDING the dinner-dance, we are told, there is to be an hors d'oeuvres party around the pool where the special feature of entertainment will be the Aqualinks who have some pretty fancy swimming numbers to present—After that dining and dancing—and probably after that plans for another three-day Swingfest in the not too distant future.

Planning the dinner-dance angle of the affair is a committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Joyce, chairman; Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Miner, Mr. and Mrs. Linus Southwick, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Chance, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Young.

INCIDENTALLY — Mr. and Mrs. Ben Joyce also have house guests for the three-day golf whirling—Mr. and Mrs. Archie Roach of St. Paul, Minn., arrived on Sunday—in ample time for Mr. Roach to be on the LCC golf course bright and early Monday morning.

JUST learned that Mr. and Mrs. Julian P. Eochart of Santa Ana, Calif., are in town—the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Thorne who complimented their guests Sunday evening when they entertained 18 guests at dinner at their home.

On Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Earl Burnett were host and hostess at dinner at their home, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Eberhart, and the visitors were honorees again on Tuesday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Fred F. Nodell were host and hostess at dinner.

ON THE calendar for Wednesday evening is the dinner for which Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hassler and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Keckler were hosts and hostesses at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Keckler—and on Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. Eberhart will be the honored guests when Mr. and Mrs. William H. Browne entertain at dinner.

DID YOU know that Dr. and Mrs. Orvis Neely are settled in their recently purchased home at 2948 Wendover? And had you heard that the marriage of Dr. Neely to Patricia Elizabeth Henderson of Hainburg, Ia., took place in Omaha on Saturday, May 15? The ceremony was solemnized at 7 o'clock on Saturday evening at the Community Congregational Church, with the Rev. Mr. Manners solemnizing the ceremony in the presence of only the members of the immediate families.

Mrs. Francis Campbell of Lincoln was the bride's attendant, and Robert Neely served his father as best man.

Dr. and Mrs. Neely left for a trip to Minnesota, and en route home stopped at Shattuck School from where they were accompanied home by Dr. Neely's son, Robert.

THEY rolled out the red carpet on Tuesday, June 8, to welcome a future debutante—a certain Miss Van Kirk who arrived at Lincoln General hospital—The young lady's name is to be Christine Morris Van Kirk. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burkett Van Kirk, and her mother is the former Ann Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burke Morris of Clarksburg, W. Va. Mr. and Mrs. Rolla Van Kirk of Washington D.C., are the paternal grandparents, and the young lady has a paternal great-grandmother, Mrs. E. J. Burkett.

Has Evening Ceremony

MRS. PAUL W. THOMPSON

Arrangements of gladioli in pastel tints were placed against a background of wood-wardia and lighted white candles to appoint the chancel of First-Plymouth Congregational Church for the marriage of Miss Sheila Lorn Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Brown, and Paul W. Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Thompson of Omaha, on Tuesday evening, June 8. The 8 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. Thomas C. Dick.

A prelude of organ music was presented by Miss Josephine Waddell as the candles were lighted by Miss Betty Swanson and Miss Barbara Akeson. Miss Waddell also played the wedding music and accompanied Miss Yvonne Moran, vocalist.

Costumed identically in cameo pink Swiss organdy were Miss Marilyn Preusse, the maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Miss Lura Ann Harden of Lincoln, and Miss Diane Feaster, Omaha. Iridescent paillettes tracing a rose motif bordered the off-shoulder necklines of the basques beneath which their skirts flared into fullness. They wore tiny brow veils of pink net, and carried Milan baskets filled with pink carnations.

Serving his brother as best man was Byron Thompson of Omaha, and seating the guests were Joe Brown of Lincoln, brother of the bride, Jim Ochsner, Omaha and Gary Jones, Hastings.

White imported Swiss organdy over taffeta fashioned the bride's Empire gown. Soft folds of the organdy edged with embroidered lace formed the fichu décolletage of the molded bodice, which was closed at the back by self-fabric buttons. The brief sleeves were completed by long organdy mitts cuffed with the lace, and shirred into fullness, the skirt extended into a long train. Her veil of silk illusion was held to the head by a tiara of lace patterned with pearls and paillettes, and she carried a cascade of white roses, orchids and stephanotis.

A reception for 250 guests was held in the church parlors. Upon returning from a trip to Colorado, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson will reside at Villisca, Ia., where the bridegroom, a graduate of the University of Nebraska School of Music, is supervisor of music in the Villisca schools. He is a member of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia music honorary, Gamma Lambda, and Tau Kappa Epsilon. Also a graduate of the University of Nebraska School of Music, Mrs. Thompson is a member of Chi Omega sorority, Sigma Alpha Iota music sorority and Chapter FB, PEO.

Another bride of mid-June is Miss Nancy Daharsh. Miss Daharsh will marry Monte Ray Buel at 4 o'clock, Sunday, June 20 at Vine Congregational Church.

On Wednesday, June 9, Mrs. Clyde Durham will honor the bride-to-be at a miscellaneous shower at her home at 8 o'clock. Miss Blanche Buel and Mrs. Sam Buel, the bridegroom's sister and sister-in-law, will entertain Miss Da-harsh at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Miss Blanche Buel, on Saturday evening, June 12.

Mrs. Don Nelson and Mrs. Floyd Barnett will be co-hostesses at a personal shower on Monday, June 14, at 7:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Nelson, at the last of Miss Daharsh's prenuptial courtesies.

Miss Delores Fischer, whose betrothal to David L. Kaufman was announced recently, has chosen Saturday, June 19, as the date for her wedding which will take place at 4 o'clock in the afternoon at St. John Congregational Church.

For her maid of honor, Miss Fischer has chosen her cousin, Miss Jeanette Fischer, and her bridesmaids will be Mrs. George Kaufman, Mrs. Reuben Worster, Mrs. Jack Rieke, sister of the bridegroom-elect, and Mrs. Vernon Merriman. Miss Cheryl Schneider will be the flower girl, and the candles will be lighted by Melvin Fischer, Miss Fischer's brother, and by Miss Betty Kay Kaufman, Mr. Kaufman's sister.

Harvey Kaufman will serve his brother as best man, and the ushers will be Lyle Franklin, Jack Rieke, and George Kaufman and Philip Kaufman, also brothers of Mr. Kaufman. Jimmie Hoffman will be ring-bearer.

On Wednesday evening, Miss Jeannette Fischer entertained in courtesy to the bride-to-be at a personal shower at her home. Twelve guests were invited for the informal evening. Also included among recent parties honoring Miss Fischer was the dessert supper for which Mrs. John Fischer was hostess to 45 guests at her home last week.

Church Weddings For June Brides

MRS. DONALD EUGENE LEONARD

MRS. LARRY EMMONS

Miss Joan Follmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bryce X. Follmer of Wichita, Kan., became the bride of Ens. Donald Eugene Leonard, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Leonard of Madrid, Ia., at a late afternoon ceremony solemnized on Tuesday, June 8. Lighted candles in pedestal candelabra, twisted with woodwardia, and arrangements of white Marguerite daisies and gladioli, formed the background for the service in the chapel of Westminster Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Rex Knowles, Congregational Presbyterian pastor at the University of Nebraska, assisted by the Rev. Thomas C. Dick of First Plymouth Congregational Church, read the lines of the ceremony, and the wedding music was played by Miss Josephine Waddell, organist. Miss Waddell also accompanied Mrs. Sherman Huff, Topeka, Kan., the vocal soloist, as the candles were lighted by Miss Margaret Mosso of Topeka, and Mrs. J. L. Steven of York.

Attending her sister as maid of honor was Miss Janet Follmer of Wichita, frocked in white organdy over pink taffeta designed in the waltz length, and costumed identically in pink organdy over taffeta were the bridesmaids, Mrs. Kay C. Haveron of Colorado Springs, and the bridesmaid, Miss Mary Janet Reed of Lincoln.

The bride's gown of white Swiss organdy over taffeta was fashioned with a snugly-buttoned bodice and wide skirt extending into a train. The deeply squared neckline, filled in with soft folds of the organdy, was framed by a scalloped border of embroidery, and long mitts of organdy completed the brief sleeves. The embroidered motif was repeated at the hem of the bouffant skirt.

Serving as best man was Jack L. Steven of York, and the ushers were Douglas Innes of Phillipsburg, Kan., and Floyd Mason of York.

Ens. and Mrs. Leonard will reside at San Diego, Calif., where the bridegroom, a graduate of the University of Nebraska and a member of Pi Kappa Phi, will be stationed with the Navy. Mrs. Leonard, a member of Towne Club, also is a graduate of the University of Nebraska.

With the Rev. Leland Leshner reading the lines before a background of yellow snapdragons and lavender stock, which appointed the chancel, and white carnations, filling the altar vases, the marriage of Miss Janet Kohout, daughter of Mrs. Annette Kohout, to Larry Emmons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil R. Emmons, took place at an 8 o'clock ceremony on Tuesday evening, June 8, at the Grace Lutheran Church. Mrs. Gwen Fisher, organist, played the wedding music.

Floor-length frocks of tulle over matching taffeta were chosen for the costumes of the attendants, including the maid of honor, Miss Patricia Stimson, who appeared in pale yellow, and the bridesmaids, Miss Marilyn Sheldon of Hastings, and Miss Eileen Aitken of Cumseh, who were in the lime green tone. Their ensembles were completed with stoles of frock-toned tulle, which covered the strapless bodices, and flower-trimmed half-hats which reflected the shades of their costumes. Each carried a colonial bouquet of Esther Reed daisies.

William Kastens Jr. of Nebraska City served Mr. Emmons as best man, and the ushers were James Balfour, also of Nebraska City, and Tom Pryor.

The bridal gown of Chantilly lace over satin, was designed with a long-sleeved lace-over-satin bodice closed at the back with minute self-material buttons, which had a deep V neckline contoured with a Queen Anne collar, and which narrowed to an Elizabethan point at the slender waist. The voluminous skirt of lace was given added bouffancy with a front hem-length panel of pleated tulle edged with scallops of lace. Her veil of English silk illusion was banded with lace, and was held to the head with a Mary Queen of Scots bonnet of lace-edged tulle, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, centered with orchids.

After a reception for the two hundred wedding guests, held in the church parlors, Mr. Emmons and his bride left for a honeymoon trip to the Black Hills. For traveling Mrs. Emmons wore a frock of pastel blue linen, with navy and white polka-dot scarf and kerchief.

State's Wheat Storage Problem Being Solved

Mrs. Tucker
will be here
SOON!

The State Agricultural Conservation and Stabilization office Tuesday expressed the belief that the problem of finding space for last year's wheat which Nebraska growers put up as security for government loans would be satisfactorily solved by the time the wheat starts moving.

Storage has been worked out satisfactorily in all but Deuel and Garden Counties, and the problem there is being met by shipping out about 136 carloads of wheat, of which about 100 will go out of Deuel County, the ASC reported.

The maturity date on 1953 wheat loans was April 30, but growers have 60 days in which to pay off the loan, turn the wheat over to the government or re-seal.

In Nebraska, this has been a 25 million bushel problem. Of this amount, about 18 million bushels represented farm-stored wheat under purchase agreement, and about three million bushels represented 1952 re-sealed wheat.

Of the 25 million bushels to be disposed of, about 12 million has gone into bins, about 1,000,000 has been resealed, about 3 million bushels have been redecimated, about 4 million bushels have gone to warehouses and space for the remainder has been found in bins from which old corn has been cleared, or in emergency warehouse space.

Most of the redecimated wheat has been high protein wheat in the western part of the state. Bonus prices have been offered for this kind of wheat, making it more profitable for growers to sell on the market than to accept the loan rate.

Preliminary loan rates on the 1954 Nebraska crop have been announced, meanwhile. These are minimum support rates.

Among Nebraska counties, these rates will be the same as for 1953 except in the case of nine counties where adjustments have been made because of freight rates.

The counties with changes include Banner, down 1 cent to $2.15 a bushel; Cedar, down 4 cents to $2.27; Dakota, down 3 cents to $2.30; Deuel, down 1 cent to $2.18; Dixon, down 1 cent to $2.29; Knox, down 1 cent to $2.27; Platte, down 1 cent to $2.31; Thurston, down 2 cents to $2.31, and Wayne, down 4 cents to $2.28.

If the wheat parity price on July 1 of this year, the beginning of the marketing year, is higher than the $2.45 parity price of August, 1953, which was used to determine the 90 per cent of parity preliminary support prices,

Oxford Man Is Crosby Manager

Gov. Robert Crosby, candidate for the Republican senatorial nomination, announced the appointment of Furnas County Attorney Paul E. Pettygrove of Oxford as his outstate campaign manager.

Pettygrove was active in the governor's campaign two years ago.

Crosby said he will announce later the appointment of managers for his campaign in Omaha and Lincoln, and also plans campaign chairmen in each county.

An Omaha headquarters will be opened July 15, he said.

Hoelt Shuts Out Yanks With Two Hits

NEW YORK (AP)—A scratch single by Irv Noren broke up Billy Hoelt's no-hitter after six innings Tuesday night, but the 22-year-old Detroit left-hander went on to become the first southpaw to shut out the New York Yankees twice this season as the Tigers won 8-0. An eighth inning double by Gerry Coleman was the only other Yankee hit.

On the second pitch of the seventh inning Noren slashed a grounder up the middle. Shortstop Harvey Kuenn jumped to his left and got his glove on the ball but it caromed off and dribbled into center field.

Coleman's double with one out in the eighth dropped out of reach down the left field line. Hoelt pitched a five-inning one-hitter against the Yankees here May 2 with the only safety coming with two out in the fifth when Andy Carey blooped a double to the same spot down the left field line.

BOSTON (AP)—Jimmy Dykes, Baltimore manager, Tuesday was suspended for three days and fined $50 by American League President Will Harridge.

Dykes was informed of the action by a telegram from Harridge. The action resulted from a run-in Dykes had with Umpire Ed Hurley in New York Sunday.

Des Moines Cops 5th Straight With 2 To 0 Win Over Pueblo

DES MOINES, Ia. (AP)—Pueblo Pitcher Gene Kern held Des Moines to three hits Tuesday night but the Bruins made two of them count for runs to win, 2-0, for their fifth straight victory and eighth in nine games.

Kern baffled the Bruins without a hit until the seventh and then gave up two runs in the eighth. Jim McDaniels' single, an error, a wild pitch and Les Peden's outfield fly produced the first marker. Vern Morgan followed with his sixth homer.

Landy Runs 4:01.6 Mile; No Record

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—Australia's John Landy failed again Tuesday night in the cold and rain at Olympic Stadium to break Roger Bannister's 3:59.4 world mile record as he sloshed over a wet and heavy track to a 4:01.6 clocking.

The champion from down under was caught exactly the same time he turned in last week at Turku, Finland, in an effort to crack the four-minute mile barrier. He has six more races on his current Scandinavian tour in which to challenge the electrifying record set May 6 by Bannister at Oxford, England.

NEW YORK (AP)—Goyamo was withdrawn Tuesday from the $100,000 Belmont Stakes and injuries and uncertainties affecting other top colts may produce the largest field in 18 years for the 88th running of the famous classic Saturday at Belmont Park.

Trainer Woody Stephens of the Woodvale Farm said Goyamo, who won the Blue Grass Stakes and then finished fourth in both the Kentucky Derby and Preakness, would skip the mile and one-half Belmont test of the champion.

Dykes Not One To Do Things By Halves

By WHITNEY MARTIN
NEW YORK (AP) — Jimmy Dykes isn't a fellow to do things by halves. He never could recite half a league, half a league, half a league onward. If they couldn't make it a league, he wanted no part of it.
Consequently it was no great surprise to learn he was a thumbs up of both ends of the double-headed Orieles split with the Yankees Sunday, although it probably was a disappointment to him. That only tied the record. He's waiting for a triple-header so he can take three showers in one day.
Neither was it a surprise that the umpire who gave him the thumb in each game was Ed Hurley, the same man who ousted him on the only other occasion this year Jimmy was requested to make himself absent from the premises.
Hurley and Dykes have been greeting each other with frosty glares for going on two years now, or since that late September day in 1952 when Jimmy, then master-minding for the Philadelphia Athletics, accused the umpire of choking up in the clutch and of being a Yankee lover, just to mention a couple of the more dignified charges.
The A's lost that game, 1 to 0, and Dykes blamed the defeat on Hurley's third-strike call on batter Joe Astroth with the bases full. It wasn't a strike, Jimmy protested, causing Hurley not to change his mind in no uncertain terms.
It might be gathered Jimmy is of an even disposition—always mad—but this isn't quite the case. The little round man with the impish expression has a grand sense of humor, although it isn't always appreciated.
Not that all his protests to umpires are cushioned in sweet, barbless words. His remarks on occasion could set prairie fires, and we have seen him practice this technique in spring training where umpires, managers, players and coaches are supposed to make up one big, happy family.

It was in Florida, during a game which meant no more than a corner-lot contest, and Jimmy just to idle away the time, started giving Frank Dascoli a once over lightly.
Now Dascoli is a National League umpire, and a good one, although he has exceedingly sharp ears which are tuned to the wave length of any remarks in a ball park which might be construed as aimed at him with malice.
But an umpire is an umpire to Jimmy and Dascoli just happened to be the one on duty. Jimmy started slowly, and you could see Frank's neck becoming redder by the minute. Finally the mask came off, and up went the right thumb in the time-honored hitch-hiker's gesture.
We asked Jimmy later just what had brought about the eruption. He gazed at us blandly.
"Why, nothing," he said innocently. "I just called him a blankety-blank-blank. That took care of his education, ancestry and integrity, didn't it?"
Occasionally a little inconsistency creeps into Jimmy's remarks. There was the day early last year when he said he was misunderstood. That he really loved all umpires. The statement was taken as an indication Jimmy really had blown his top.

Two days later he violently was protesting a league ruling that an umpire's judgment was not to be questioned by players, managers and coaches. Just spoiling his fun, that's all.
If Jimmy ever made the hall of fame he wouldn't stay there. He'd be thumbed out.

Stitzel-Weller, a fine, old-family distilling outfit in Louisville—makers of OLD CABIN STILL BOURBON—have figured I'm just the guy to help them. They, too, are for moderation. They know gulpers are no good for their good business.
They'd just as soon stay comparatively small, and they are not going to start "farming out" or "sub-letting" their distilling. They watch every drop of OLD CABIN STILL patiently and paternally right in their own distillery for many years.
They make OLD CABIN STILL to appeal to sportsmen. As the result of its exact flavor balance at 93 proof, it has a rich, round, deep bourbon charm which gives you more satisfaction mileage in small quantities than many bourbons give you in many helpings. It is slow-made and oak-ripened by the same original, costly, small-pace method the family has practiced reverently for generations.
It is made in moderation by sportsmen distillers who'd like to see it used in sportsmanlike moderation by gentleman connoisseurs.

Aussie Girls Train To Beat U.S Net Stars

MELBOURNE (AP) — Australia's girl tennis players have started an all-out bid to wrest women's tennis laurels from the United States.
They have begun training under the rigid "Harry Hopman Plan." Five of Victoria's leading women players are being trained under Davis Cup conditions for an assault on world titles next year.
The girls are Norma Ellis, 23; Jennifer Staley, 20; Betty Orton, 18; Maureen McCalman, 17, and Lorraine Cochran, 16.
It is a 12-month plan to bring the Australian girls—the neglected section of the tennis family in the past—in line with their male counterparts.
Next season the Australian Lawn Tennis Association will spend 5,000 Australian pounds ($11,400) on sending a women's team overseas, with Wimbledon as the main objective.
Gone are the fashion plate styles of Kooyung and "Georgious Gussie" panties in the new training schedule. In their place are blue jeans and sloppy sweaters.
Twice a week they are in a Melbourne Gymnasium at 7:30 a.m., hard at work with medicine ball, bar and bicycle exercises, the skipping rope and all types of springing exercises. Each evening the girls, accompanied by brothers or perspiring fathers, take to the roads and jog up to three miles.
It is 16 years since Australia had an official women's team at Wimbledon. The Greybeards of the Lawn Tennis Association well remember the 2,000 Australian pounds they lost on that occasion.
Since World War II, Australian women's tennis steadily declined and it took the visit of Wimbledon and United States Champion Maureen Connolly to Australia in 1953 to prove Australia's women players are not world class.

Charles Ledwith, 38, Lincoln attorney, has completed his filing for the Democratic nomination for attorney general. The son of John J. Ledwith, Lincoln lawyer and prominent Democrat who died in 1938, Ledwith has practiced law in Lincoln since 1937. He was educated in the Lincoln public schools and the University of Nebraska.

Entering active duty in 1943, Ledwith spent four months as an army private and later served as an officer in the judge advocate general's department. He presently holds the rank of major in the JAGD Reserve of the Air Force.

Ledwith has taken part in a number of lawsuits in which there was wide public interest, including an original action in the Nebraska Supreme Court in which he represented Adjutant General Guy N. Henninger. In this action a declaratory judgment was obtained against the state auditor and the state treasurer, determining that the 1947 Legislature had appropriated for use during the following biennium the State Institutional and

Peace Through Strength 'Guiding Star'—Churchill

Gruenther: 'If Reds Should Attack In '54, They Would Be Defeated'

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill told the English Speaking Union Tuesday night "peace through strength must be our guiding star."

And, he declared, "nothing that has happened in the past 12 months has made me change my view."

Talks Set On Mental Staff Salary

Gov. Crosby, Diers
To Confer Wednesday

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

Gov. Robert Crosby said Tuesday that he will confer on Wednesday with Chairman W. H. Diers of the board of control on salaries paid employees in state mental hospitals. He said a preliminary discussion already has been held.

Chairman Diers said Tuesday that the board is now engaged in making a study of all salaries paid in the hospitals and what effect increases will have on the biennial appropriation.

Diers explained that part of the appropriation has not been allocated, having been set aside for the employment of a necessary 100 workers to staff the new building at the Norfolk Hospital.

At present, Diers explained, about 800 employees are required at the three hospitals. "A $10 a month increase to all of the present employees would cost the state $400,000 a year and such an increase still would not prove attractive to the psychiatrists, judging from reports from the superintendents," Diers said.

Petition Received
The governor said he received a petition signed by 300 employees at the Hastings hospital asking an "immediate investigation" as to why salaries cannot be paid that would assure the hospital an adequate staff.

Crosby said the board of control was already discussing the problem with the three superintendents before he received the petition. He said that he understands that it isn't entirely a matter of salaries but that there is "just a plain shortage of psychiatrists."

Institutional practice, regardless of pay, apparently is not as inviting to the mental specialists as is private practice, he continued. The profession, he said, appears to frown on fellow doctors who accept institutional employment.

The governor pointed out that while there has always been the closest co-operation between himself and the board of control and they discuss their problems with him, absolute power regarding operation is vested in the board by law. However, they must operate within appropriations made by the Legislature.

Dr. G. Lee Sandritter, superintendent of the Hastings hospital, complained last week that resignations were decimating his staff and criticized the board of control for refusing to increase salaries sufficiently.

Chairman Diers said that after a conference with the superintendents last fall salary increases were made. He also pointed out that Dr. Sandritter protested to the appropriations committee at the last session of the Legislature that budgets recommended by the board and governor were too low but they refused to increase it.

who has repeatedly said the last price he seeks is a lasting world peace, went on to warn:

"Humanity stands today, I think it is no exaggeration to say, at its most fateful milestone. On the one hand science opens the yawning chasm of self-destruction to the limit, on the other hand she displays a vision of plenty and comfort which the masses of no race have ever known or even dreamed."

Direct Warning

Churchill spoke on the same platform as Gen. Alfred Gruenther, American commander of NATO, who drew applause as he gave a direct warning to the Kremlin.

"If the Soviet should launch an attack in 1954 they would suffer a severe defeat."

The mild-mannered supreme commander explained:

"I do not want to say we would win because I am sure in a third world war there would be no winner, but they (the Russians) would be defeated."

Gruenther added:

"We do not want a war to take place. But if it does take place our minds are clear that we must and shall use every weapon in our arsenal."

He emphasized to the cheering crowd:

"In our thinking we visualize the use of atomic bombs in the support of our ground troops. We also visualize the use of atomic bombs on targets in enemy territory."

J. B. Morgan Files For 9th Clerk Term
Lancaster County Clerk J. B. Morgan has filed on the Republican ticket for his ninth term of office.

Morgan, 77, has been clerk since 1922, when he was appointed and a month later was elected for the first time. Before that, he was deputy county clerk for two years.

Educated at the University of Nebraska and Nebraska Wesleyan University, Morgan was principal of St. Paul High School from 1905 to 1907. Later he served with a Loup City bank before establishing his own bank at Inland, which he sold in 1920.

Morgan said he is seeking reelection on his record in office. He has been elected to office eight times, several times without opposition.

Sec. Stevens Calls Army First Line Of Defense In Red Fight

... Vows War On Unwarranted Abuse

WEST POINT, N. Y. (AP)—Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens Tuesday called the Army "the nation's first line of defense against Communism." He pledged again to protect its officers from "unwarranted attack and abuse."

Stevens, whose department is involved in a controversy with Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) said he has been having a "rough" time of late.

But, he declared, he has "not once considered turning back."

The civilian chief of the Army spoke at graduation exercises at the U. S. Military Academy.

Repeated Applause

His audience, estimated by officials at 10,000 persons including the corps of cadets and their guests, responded with repeated rounds of applause.

The embattled secretary made no mention as such of the current Senate Army - McCarthy hearings, but there was no mistaking his meaning.

Stevens has accused McCarthy of abusing a senior officer during the course of investigation into alleged Communist infiltration of the Army.

McCarthy, on the other hand, has accused the Army of "codding" Communists and has charged Stevens tried to get him to call off the investigation.

1954 Model

Stevens Tuesday said the Army is "truly a 1954 model, modern in every respect."

"It is," he declared, "a tough, rugged Army that has been and will continue to be our nation's first line of defense against Communism."

"As secretary of the Army," Stevens told them, "I shall do everything within my power to make sure that every one of you is respected and honored during his service."

"Your rights as individuals are precious to me, and you shall bear no scars from unwarranted attack or abuse suffered during my tenure of office."

Summer Session Registration Set

Registration for the 1954 summer session at the University of Nebraska will open at 8 a. m. Wednesday at the Coliseum, Dr. Frank E. Sorenson, director, announced.

Nearly 2,500 students are expected to register for the four-week, six-week, or eight-week sessions. Classes will begin Thursday.

Dr. Sorenson said the four-week session will close July 2, the six-week, July 16, and the eight-week, July 30. Summer commencement will be held July 30.

Post session classes on public health and driver education will open July 31, and close Aug. 18.

2 Iowans Die In Crash

FULTON, Ill. (INS)—A 15-year-old girl baseball player was one of two persons killed in a flaming car-gasoline truck crash four miles north of Fulton. Police identified the dead as Jean Putman and Bernard Jensen, 25, both of Clinton, Ia. They said three other persons were injured. The group was returning to Clinton after a game at Lenark, Ill.

An elevator operator at the state house, F. K. Herrmann, Tuesday presented Gov. Robert Crosby and the state a Christmas song he has written and dedicated to state employees.

WHY MERCURY'S NEW V-8 ENGINE IS THE FINEST IN ITS FIELD!

MORE RESPONSIVE (unique, new 4-barrel carburetor)—Only 2 barrels are used for normal driving. But the 2 extra barrels cut in instantly when reserve power is needed. They are vacuum-controlled for smoother response, greater economy.

SMOOTHER OPERATING (5 bearings, 8 counterweights)—Mercury's method of precision molding crankshafts of alloy iron permits a full set of counterweights (8 rather than the usual 6). The result: better balance, virtually no vibration.

MORE EFFICIENT (special high-turbulence combustion chambers)—Wedge-shaped combustion chambers, the result of 5 years' research, swirl the fuel-air mixture past the spark plugs in a miniature cyclone for fast, complete combustion—for more power from less gas. This is the most powerful yet the thriftiest Mercury ever—with 629 hp for every inch of its 256 cu. in. displacement... the highest ratio in Mercury's history.

UNMATCHED FOR SHEER RUGGEDNESS (new deep-skirt block)—Mercury's new block extends almost 3 inches below the crankshaft's center line—gives far greater crankshaft support. New short-stroke (3.1") pistons cut engine wear, give 29% more mileage for same amount of piston travel.

TREMENDOUS RESERVE POWER ("over-and-under" intake manifold)—Free-flow passages provide a balanced distribution of fuel to all cylinders—permit Mercury to deliver its full 161-hp when needed. In the 4-door sedan, for example, there's one horsepower for every 23 pounds of car.

QUIETER OPERATING (precision balanced)—All major parts are balanced separately, then each engine is individually balanced in operation after assembly—a manufacturing process reserved up until now for only the most expensive engines.

THE SAME HIGH HORSEPOWER IN EVERY MODEL—Unlike some cars with optional, extra-cost "top-of-the-line" engines, Mercury's new 161-hp overhead valve V-8 is standard on every model.

COME IN AND SEE FOR YOURSELF—You don't have to be mechanically minded to understand the benefits of these new engine features. You can feel them on a trial drive. We invite you to stop in at our showroom and do just that.

How to Win a Bet

How to Win a Bet
with a Carpet Tack

by
J. P. Van Winkle
President
Stitzel-Weller Distillery
Louisville, Kentucky
Established 1849

A black and white portrait of J. P. Van Winkle, a man with glasses and a suit, looking slightly to the right.

There's the story of two rival Kentucky distillers who boasted of their educated taste.

On sampling his competitor's bourbon, one distiller claimed he could detect the faint trace of a carpet tack. Bets were soon made and the barrel emptied.

Sure enough, from the upended bung with the last few drops, rolled the offending tack!

Might be more fact than fiction here. Iron colors whiskey overnight. Through the years, a single tack could turn a whole barrel dark.

In fact, in the old days when whiskey was sold to taverns in bulk, it was quite a trick to slip into the back room and drop a nail into a competitor's barrel. Many an honest distiller has had to replace his "spiked" bourbon.

Nowadays, with open barrels outlawed, whatever tampering might be done to the original Kentucky sour mash formula occurs before the whiskey reaches glass.

Such "tampering" takes the form of short-cutting the mashing and fermenting to save time, or distilling at the highest permissible proof to save costs and shorten the aging.

Our old-line family distillery has succumbed to neither of these temptations. We purposely cling to old-fashioned sour mash methods, preferring to remain small and owner-managed while limiting our market to the comparative few who can appreciate and afford our special, costly type of bourbon.

If you are one who regards his whiskey as a personal matter, a friendly affinity between man and brand, OLD FITZGERALD may well prove a discovery worth your

We invite you to join the inner circle of business executives who have thus made our brand their own, and find it good business to share, in moderation, with associates and friends.
